

Pauling's Fourth Rule

- ❖ In a crystal structure containing different cations, those of high valency and small coordination number tend not to share polyhedral elements with each other.