

Scanning electron microscopy image of pyromorphite (bright crystals) on ferrihydrite in a Pb-contaminated sediment after the addition of phosphate solution. Growth of pyromorphite sequesters the Pb in a biologically unavailable form.